Most employers will finalise their last weekly wage payouts for the 2018 financial and tax year by the end of this week and finalise their last monthly salary payouts anything from the 24th until 28 February 2017. It is again time to conduct your annual year-end procedures on your Salary Register for the end of the 2018 financial and tax year on 28 February 2018, before these last salary and wage payouts are made during the course of the coming week: Please ensure that all aspects of your Salary Register are completely updated.

Please contact us, should you require any further advice or assistance.
