Most employers will finalise their last weekly wage payouts for the 2020 financial and tax year by the end of this or next week and finalise their last monthly salary payouts anything from the 22th until 29 February 2020. It is again time to conduct your annual year-end procedures on your Salary Register for the end of the 2020 financial and tax year on 29 February 2020, before these last salary and wage payouts are made during the course of the coming week: Please ensure that all aspects of your Salary Register are completely updated.

Please contact us, should you require any further advice or assistance.
